Diversity Lecture

CONFRONTING INSTITUTIONAL AND SYSTEMIC RACISM

CHANDAN REDDY AND STEPHEN DILLON
FACILITATED BY GAYE THERESA JOHNSON

This panel will address two questions: what is institutionalized racism and how do we navigate a system when we are still a part of it? The goal is to give university affiliated individuals who have experienced institutionalized racism, either consciously or unconsciously, the tools to handle and combat it. Chandan Reddy is Associate Professor of Gender, Women, and Sexuality Studies and the Program for the Comparative Study of Ideas at the University of Washington, Seattle. Stephen Dillon is an Assistant Professor of Critical Race and Queer Studies at Hampshire College in Massachusetts. Gaye Theresa Johnson is an Associate Professor at the University of California, Los Angeles. Co-sponsored by the Associate Vice Chancellor for Diversity, Equity, and Academic Policy, and The Equal Opportunity & Discrimination Prevention Office.

THURS, FEB 21ST, 6 PM
PANEL DISCUSSION / MCC THEATER

For more information or assistance in accommodating people of varying abilities contact the MultiCultural Center at 805.893.8411

FOR THE FULL WINTER 2019 CALENDAR, VISIT MCC.SA.UCSB.EDU

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC