AN AFRICAN AMERICAN AND LATINX HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

Paul Ortiz

Paul Ortiz will discuss and sign copies of “An African American and Latinx History of the United States,” his new book on the intersectional history of the shared struggle for African American and Latina/o human rights. This book is a reinterpretation of United States history from the American Revolution to present, focusing on Black and Brown workers and social movement leaders who sought to democratize the country in ways we have too often forgotten—but must now remember in this time of national crisis. Paul Ortiz is Professor of History at the University of Florida.
